

Ramboll Crafts a Better Office of Finance

Ramboll, a leading engineering, design and consultancy company, relied heavily on spreadsheets for budgeting and reporting. Their Office of Finance needed a solution that would allow them to consolidate entries from many users across the globe. With Prophix, Ramboll streamlined their reporting processes and cut their budget preparation time in half.

Business Challenges

Ramboll's budgeting process revolved around a large collection of spreadsheets that required a lot of back and forth between cross-functional departments. It became difficult to incorporate changes and consolidate data from international consultants.

Why Prophix?

Results

Shortly after implementing Prophix, Ramboll automated their financial consolidation process. With Prophix's reporting function alone, Ramboll's finance managers save more than $40,000 per year. For every $1 invested in software, services, implementation, and training, Ramboll has received $5.14 back.
